THE Numb. 392.

MARYLAND GAZETTE,

Containing the freſheſt Advices foreign and domeſtic.

THURSDAY, November 9, 1752.

LISBON, July 13.

THE Squadron commanded by Don Dennis Vaſquez ſet ſail laſt Wedneſday for the Coaſt of Moſambic: It conſiſts of nine large Ships, of which three are Men of War of fifty, ſixty, and ſeventy Guns. Beſides Labourers and Materials for building a new Fort on the Coaſt of Zanguebar, fifty Miſſionaries are gone with this Squadron to preach the Goſpel to the idolatrous Natives of that Country.

We ſee here an Extract of a Letter from Pondicherry, dated the 14th of October, 1751, importing, that the French were making a Settlement on the Coaſt of Malabar at the Foot of Mount Bely, where the Prince of Nelly had granted them a Spot of Ground of about Half a League Square, upon Condition of aſſiſting him againſt the Marrates, who threaten'd to invade his Country. According to the ſame Advices, the French were alſo endeavouring to ſettle themſelves at Caronara, which lies within Half a League of Angedivo near Goa, and had given the Portugueze to underſtand, that this Vicinity could not but be advantageous to both Nations; that by Means of it they might unite together againſt the Pyrates Angria, Melendria, and Bonſulos, who for many Years paſt have greatly moleſted the European Companies; that the French Guard Ships would not a little contribute to protect the Portugueze Settlements as well as their own; and that by this Means the Commerce of Goa could not fail of flouriſhing, by the great Quantities of Goods that would be brought to that City from Bengal and the Coaſt of Coromandel.

In fine, if we may give Credit to that Letter, the Viceroy of Goa having heard that the Engliſh had taken down their Colours from the Walls of Meliapour or St. Thome, he had charged the Baron of Vielorie, a Swiſs Engineer, in the Service of Portugal, to go and take Poſſeſſion of that Place in the Name of his Portugueze Majeſty: At his Arrival there, the Council of Gondelour having aſſembled, told him that they acknowleged no other Maſter there than the King of Great Britain; which was objected to by the ſaid Baron, who ſhew'd them that the Place had for a long Time paſt belonged to the Crown of Portugal. After this M. Vielorie went to Pondicherry, to wait for Orders from the French Viceroy, M. Dupleix, who receiv'd him very kindly, and aſſured him, he was ready to do any Thing that lay in his Power for the Service of his Moſt Faithful Majeſty. Whilſt Baron Vielorie was at Pondicherry, he found Means to gain the Ear of the Nabob of Arcatti, and perſuaded him to put the Portugueze again in Poſſeſſion of the City of St. Thome, by driving the Engliſh out of that Settlement: For which Enterprize the Nabob demanded 500 Portugueze Soldiers, to be in his Pay, and ceded for ever to his Moſt Faithful Majeſty ſeveral Villages or Diſtricts which he had formerly made a Preſent of to the Reverend Father Norogna, a Portugueze of the Order of St. Francis. This, they ſay, was the Situation of Affairs when this Letter was wrote, and it was not yet known at Goa what Reſolution our Viceroy would take. The Letter concludes with a particular Account of the Situation of the Affairs of Salabar Ging, whom the French ſet on the Throne of Golconda in the Room of Mouſafferjingue, who was killed in the Mutiny of the Patans. It is ſaid, that Salabar ſtill intended to ſet upon the Marrates with a great Force, having for this Purpoſe aſſembled an Army of 10,000 Men, which has been joined by 800 French, and 200 Cypais. That he had left the Command of this Army, and the Direction of the Enterprize to the French; and that he had ſent an Expreſs to the Viceroy of Goa, to deſire him to make a Diverſion at the ſame Time towards the North, in order to recover from the Enemy the Town of Bazaire, and the adjacent Territories, which were formerly in the Hands of the Portugueze.

Hanover, Auguſt 4. The late Hail Storms having done conſiderable Damage in ſeveral Parts of this Electorate, the King has ordered that the Taxes of the Inhabitants of thoſe Diſtricts ſhall be leſſened this Year in Proportion to the Damages they have ſuffer'd.

Vienna, July 26. According to Letters from Conſtantinople of the 1ſt Inſtant, beſides the Fires that happened there the 18th, 28th, and 29th of laſt Month, an Account of which have been already given, they had another Conflagration the 31ſt, which was not extinguiſhed when the Poſt ſet out: The Inhabitants were in the greateſt Conſternation imaginable, being perſuaded that there muſt be a Gang of Incendiaries in the City. Poverty and Confuſion reigned every where, and Diſcontent appeared in every Countenance.

The ſame Letters add, that in Conſequence of theſe Calamities, and the Murmurings of the People, the Grand Vizir had been depoſed, and baniſhed to the Iſland of Cyprus; that he is pitied by the Public in general, and that the Porte, in her preſent critical Station, th eatened with Inſurrections and Revolutions, ſtands in Need of a Prime Miniſter, as able and experienced as the depoſed one: The Grand Signior's Maſter of the Horſe is put into his Place, but only proviſionally, as 'tis thought, 'til his Highneſs can pitch upon a better Subject.

Dreſden, July 30. Laſt Wedneſday Night a Fire broke out at the great Granary in Frederickſtadt, by which above two Thirds of that vaſt Building were reduced to Aſhes.

Hanover, Auguſt 4. The Affair of the Pretenſions of the Elector Palatine ſeems to be ſtill liable to ſeveral Diſcuſſions: That Prince rates at above Three Millions of Florins the Indemnification he expects from the Imperial Court; beſides which, he demands 20,000 l. Sterling for Proviſions and Forage furniſhed to the Britiſh Troops during the laſt War, and the like Sum from the States General on the ſame Account. This Demand on the Maritime Powers will take up ſome Time to ſettle, as the Particulars muſt be enquired into. The Court of Vienna, through Regard for the King, and alſo with a View to accelerate the Election of a King of the Romans, diſcover leſs Averſion than formerly to the giving Territories to the Elector Palatine for the Indemnification he requires; and 'tis thought that the Empreſs may cede Pleyſten to him upon certain Conditions. The Earl of Hyndford is to continue at Vienna 'til this Affair be concluded; and as 'tis hoped it will ſoon be adjuſted, we alſo reckon ſhortly to fix a Term for convoking the Electoral Dyet.

Modena, July 22. The Duke our Sovereign has received a Courier from Hanover, with Diſpatches concerning the Invitation made him to accede to the Treaty of Madrid: At the ſame Time the Conditions of that Treaty were communicated to his Serene Highneſs, the principal Drift of which is, to enforce the Guaranties ſtipulated by the Treaty of Aix la Chapelle. In a few Days we ſhall caſt thirty more Cannons or Mortars.

Rome, July 22. The Pope labours zealouſly to procure Peace to the Church of France, and as he is averſe to all Extremes, his Holineſs could not help blaming the too fiery Proceedings of the French Biſhops. He has juſt ordered the Cardinal Secretary of State to write again on this Subject to the Nuntio in Paris, and charge him to recommend to thoſe Prelates peaceable and moderate Methods.

The Arrets, Reſolutions, Remonſtrances, and other Pieces of the Parliaments of France, are publickly read here, without exciting even a Shadow of the Commotions which they occaſion in ſome Dioceſes. Though Rome is the Center of Catholicity, we judge here with ſo much the leſs Prejudice in thoſe Matters, as we always make proper Diſtinction between Doctrine and Church Diſcipline.

Briſtol, Auguſt 1. Laſt Thurſday Night, between Eight and Nine o'Clock, a Blazing Star, or Comet, was ſeen in the Heavens by divers People on the Back.

LONDON.

June 10. A Tradeſman of York was offered in Payment ſome 3 l. 12 s. Pieces, which upon Examination were found debaſed. They are ſomething thicker than the true Coin, weigh from 6 to 8 Grains leſs, and are plated over, the S in the Word JOANNES is inverted, and the D for Dei ſtands thus, ꝺ. One of them being uncaſed, the Gold weighed about 17 s.

Yeſterday one Elizabeth Scott, ſwore the Peace againſt her Huſband, before Mr. Juſtice Fielding, and gave the following Reaſons; viz. Sir, he has mortified me all over, and I goes in Danger of my Life, Night and Day. I have bore him nine Children, and whereof I am ſure I would not make my Affidavy to any Thing that was falſe for the whole World; but I can ſafely take my Affidavy that he has mortified me from Head to Foot, and ſo he has my Child too. Whereof I could ſhew your Worſhip, if your Worſhip was a Woman; but to be ſure our Sex's Modeſty can't go as far, that is, whereby before Men, to be ſure your Worſhip however underſtands me very well; and I hopes you will do me Juſtice and ſend him to Jail; which however, as every Word of the foregoing, appeared to be falſe, was not done, but they were both diſmiſſed; and the Accuſer ſeverely reprimanded. One of the Neighbours, a very credible Perſon, ſwore, that he believed, there was not a better Huſband, nor a worſe Wife in the King's Dominions.

July 2. We hear a Propoſal will ſoon be laid before the Lords of the Admiralty, relating to a Machine deſign'd for keeping Perſons floating after Shipwreck: It is ſo contriv'd, that every Sailor may carry it about him at all Times, without the leaſt Incumberance or Inconveniency, and it is to keep them buoyant as long as they can live above Water, in ſpite of Surfs or Breakers.

July 3. The Corſairs of Algiers, Tunis, and Tripoli, ſtill continue to ſeize the Ships, and enſlave the Subjects of the European States, with whom they are not at Peace, in the Mediterranean. That theſe three pyratical States of Barbary, ſhould for ſo many Ages, either ſubject the Chriſtian Powers of Europe to their Depredations, or compel them to purchaſe Peace by large annual Preſents, ſeems ſurprizing, when it is conſidered how inconſiderable their Strength is both by Sea and Land, when compared to that of Europe. It even appears no difficult Matter to the Chriſtian Princes, whoſe Dominions border on the Mediterranean, and whoſe Shipping and Subjects are conſequently moſt expoſed to the Robberies of theſe lawleſs Rovers, and are now daily taken by them, to unite their Forces and extirpate them entirely, as the Ottoman Port can give them little Aſſiſtance, their Navy being totally ruined by the Venetians at the Battle of Lepanto, in 1571, and no Attempt has been ſince made to re-eſtabliſh it. Algiers is the moſt Weſterly, and moſt powerful of the Three. It extends from Morocco on the Weſt, to the Kingdom of Tunis on the Eaſt, about 600 Miles along the Coaſt of Barbary, and is divided into four Provinces. Tunis reaches about 200 Miles along the ſame Coaſt, from Algiers on the Weſt to Tripoli on the Eaſt; and Tripoli, including the Deſart of Barca, is 1000 Miles in Length, from Tunis on the Weſt to Egypt on the Eaſt, but is ſcarce 200 Miles broad in any Place. Each of theſe States are governed by their Deys or Sovereigns, who are abſolute Monarchs, but elective, and whoſe Sons never inherit by Deſcent: The Right of Election is in the Turkiſh Soldiers only, who in Algiers do not amount to 7000 Men, but they have engroſſed the Government, and the Moors or Natives of Africa have no Share in it. In Tripoli the Dey is not ſo abſolute as the Deys of Algiers and Tunis are; for a Turkiſh Baſha reſides here, who receives his Authority from the Grand Signior, and has a Power of controuling the

Dey,

Dey, and levying a Tribute on his Subjects. However, these Deys are frequently deposed and put to Death by them, and seldom reign long: Want of Success, or a supposed Mismanagement in the Administration, is looked upon as a sufficient Reason to remove them. Thus the Dey of Tunis is but very lately deposed by his Son, and at Algiers they have murdered four of their Deys and deposed two within the Space of 25 Years. There can never want Traytors among that abandoned Race of Men, composed of Robbers and the Refuse of Turkey, to conspire the Destruction of the reigning Prince and usurp his Throne; for the Soldiers who are vested with this Power of Election, are either Criminals who have been obliged to fly from Turkey, Renegadoes, or Pyrates, who resort thither in hopes of Spoil, and who, notwithstanding their base Original, look upon themselves as Noblemen, using the Moors and other Inhabitants of Africa little better than Slaves. They live chiefly by the Plunder of Merchants that navigate the neighbouring Seas; tho' the Produce of their Country would furnish them abundantly with Materials to traffic with, if they applied themselves to Husbandry and Manufactures.

In a few Days three or four Men of War, design'd for the West Indies, will be put into Commission.

Some considerable additional Buildings are making at Tilbury Fort, and that Fortress is ordered to have a general Repair, this and the succeeding Summers.

The Somerset Man of War, at Chatham, has received Orders to be ready for sailing, to be stationed in the Mediterranean.

The Vigilante Man of War is repairing at Chatham, she being soon to sail for the West Indies.

A fine 90 Gun Ship, and another of 70 Guns, are building at Chatham, and are ordered to be finished with all possible Expedition.

July 4. Some private Advices from Franckfort intimate, that the Imperialists and Prussians are unusually earnest in recruiting; that the King of Prussia's Declaration at Vienna, in reference to the Measures he intends to pursue as to East Friezland, makes a great Noise; and that there is a Rumour as if the Austrian Forces would be very speedily sent into Swabia.

July 9. The last Letters from Brest bring a Confirmation, that the Pomona Frigate had taken two English Interlopers that were trading with the French Colonies, valued at 25,000 Livres; and that the Leopard Frigate took another English Ship, detected in a contraband Trade, whose Cargo they reckon to be worth about 40,000 Livres.

On Wednesday Morning one of the Transports in the River fell down to Woolwich, in order to take on board her Stores, which are said to be going for Georgia.

July 17. In the Sermon which the Bishop of Amiens lately preached in his Cathedral, and which has fallen under the Censure of the Parliament of Paris, whose Arret on that Occasion has been sent down to be read and published throughout all the Bailiwicks of the Diocese of Amiens, that zealous Advocate for the Constitution Unigenitus, after a tedious and sophistical Discussion of worthy and unworthy Communions, concludes his Discourse with the following Charge to his Clergy.

Take heed therefore that you be not seduced nor intimidated by those who resist the Pope and Bishops; be not afraid of temporal Judges, who are unqualified to take Cognizance of the Matters: No Dread of Men should hinder you from acting according to the Light of your Conscience. I can do nothing better than address you in the Words of St. John Chrysostom to his Clergy: "Let no human Considerations ever "prevail on you to give the Sacraments to unwor-"thy Persons; and if you don't feel yourselves "strong enough to withstand them, refer them to "me; they shall find me firm and unshakeable as a "Wall of Brass, &c."

The said Bishop, in the sixth Article of the Breviary of Amiens, reserv'd to himself alone the Right of absolving all Persons in his Diocese that keep by them the Works of Father Quesnel, or write any thing against the Bull Unigenitus: Which Article the Parliament of Paris has likewise censur'd.

August 1. Since the Rubbish has been sifted in Lincolns Inn, we here that some of the Gentlemen who were Sufferers by the Fire, have had the chief Part of their Properties in Plate and Cash restored to them, and Mr. Pickering (Clerk to Mr. Wilbraham), who had Bank Notes in his Desk to the amount of eleven hundred Pounds, the Numbers of which were likewise burnt, has been so successful as to re-establish almost all of them.

August 6. We hear that Sir PETER WARREN died of an inflammatory Fever, on the 26th of July. It is said that his Death was occasioned by his having heated himself in his Return from Fishing, and putting on a damp Shirt, which struck to his Heart, and laid the Foundation for the sudden Disorder that carried him off. He has left behind him a Lady and four Daughters, of whom the eldest is fourteen Years of Age, the second six, the third three, and the fourth three Months old. Capt. Johnson, who brought the Account of his Death, set out again for Ireland, in order to regulate the Admiral's Funeral, as he is to be interr'd in that Country.

NEWBERN, in North Carolina, August 28.

About a Fortnight ago, was committed to Goal in this Town, Four Men; viz. Patrick Moore, a Taylor by Trade, Daniel Johnson, alias Dixon, a Chymist, or Doctor, William Jillet, a Blacksmith, and Peter Matthews, for making bad Money: They were taken by the Sheriff of this County, at Peter Matthews's House, about 30 Miles from this Town, near to which, in a great Swamp, they had erected a Forge, and prepared Moulds and other Materials for making Doubloons, Pistoles, Pieces of Eight, and half Pistereens: There were some of the Doubloons, a Pistole, Pieces of Eight, and half Pistereens found upon them, but so badly done as not to be easily imposed upon any Body; which may be owing to the timely Discovery of the Plot, which prevented their finishing them in the Manner they intended; for the Similitude as to Size, is very exact, only they are much wanting in Colour, which perhaps was to have been the finishing Stroke. Patrick Moore, who upon his Examination, seems to give the clearest Evidence, says, That he liv'd in Virginia, and work'd at his Trade, at the House of one Richard Brooker, in Glocester County, where the said Daniel Johnson, alias Dixon, and William Jillet, resorted; that the said Booker gave him the said Moore a small Boat, with Provisions sufficient, to bring the said Johnson, alias Dixon, and William Jillet, with their Bellows, Hammers, Moulds, and other Materials for making Money, into this Province; which he accordingly did about two Months since, and landed them up Neu's River, from whence they travelled to the House of the said Peter Matthews, as above, set up their Forge, and were proceeding to the good Work; and would, in all Probability, have plyed us plentifully with Doubloons, Pistoles, and Pieces of Eight, had not the Plot been timely discovered.

BOSTON, October 2.

At the Court of Assize, &c. at Worcester, the 22 Tuesday of September last, one Jonathan Fairbanks, of Douglass, was convicted of the Crime of Incest, and adjudged to suffer the Penalty of the Law therefor; viz. to sit upon the Gallows with a Rope about his Neck for the Space of an Hour; and in the way from thence to the Goal to be whipt twenty Stripes, and for ever after to wear a Capital I, of two Inches long, and proportionable in Bigness, cut out in Cloth of a contrary Colour to his Cloaths, and sewed upon his upper Garment either on the Outside of his Arm, or on his Back. And the Week following at the Court of Assize, &c. at Springfield, Daniel Bailey and Mary Rainer of a Place adjoining to Sheffield in that County, were convicted of Adultery, and were sentenced to suffer the Penalty of the Law therefor; viz. to sit on the Gallows with a Rope about their Necks, for the Space of an Hour; to be whipt 40 Stripes each, and to wear a Capital A, two Inches long, on their upper Garments, as above. One Ezekiel Wells was convicted of uttering Counterfeit Dollars, and sentenced to stand in the Pillory an Hour, and suffer three Months Imprisonment.

Last Saturday was sev'night died at Newton, Mrs. Mary Davis, in the 115th or 116th Year of her Age: She retain'd her Memory and Reason to the last.

Friday last Capt. Nicholls arrived here from Halifax, and brought with him 45 French Soldiers, who had deserted from their Camp near Chignecto; and we hear that there is a Disposition in great Numbers of others to desert, as they can find Opportunity. Those come to Town, are young healthy Fellows, and well cloathed, and purpose to work with such Persons in Town or Country as incline to employ them. Several of 'em are already engaged, and gone into the Country.

By Letters from Halifax, we have Advice, that one of the Fishing Schoonners taken by the Indians at Canso, some Time since, which belonged to Halifax, was arrived there from St. Peter's, on Cape Breton, the Owner having first paid 2700 Livres to a French Priest, for her Ransom, after she had been plundered of all her fishing Gear and Stores, and a large Quantity of Fish.

A few Days ago, Capt. Elisha Doane, who with others, was taken by the Indians at Canso, on the 4th of August last (as has been mentioned in this Paper) came to Town, and informs, that upon their Arrival at St. Peter's, all the People were sent to Louisburg, from whence they got Passages to their respective Places of Abode.

WILLIAMSBURG, October 19.

Extract of a Letter from a Gentleman in the back Part of the Country.

"Several of the Indian Traders are come in, who confirm the Account we had of the Indian War, with some additional Circumstances of Horror.

"A Party of French Indians, called Tawaws, assisted by some French, laid Siege to the Twightwee Town, when most of the fighting Men were out a hunting, and scarce any Body left but the Women, old Men, and a few Traders; notwithstanding which the Town made a brave Resistance, and killed 36 of the French and Tawaws, but were at last overpower'd by Numbers, and all who were so unfortunate as to fall into the Enemies Hands, put to Death in a most cruel Manner.——Among the rest of the Prisoners there was an old Chief of the Twightwees, who, from his great Friendship to the English, was usually called the Old Briton; him and one of the Shanoak Kings they eat.——They ripp'd up several of the white Mens Bellies, and eat their Hearts and Livers; with many other shocking Acts of Barbarity.——The Six Nations are so exasperated with this inhuman Treatment of their Allies, that they and all the Ohio Indians have declared War against the French, and laid themselves under a solemn Oath to eat every Frenchman they can lay their Hands on; and not to leave a Man, Woman, or Child of the Tawaw Nation alive. The Twightwees have sent to the Westward, to assemble their numerous Tribes. Tomahawks and black Wampum are continually passing from one Town to another, and nothing but Revenge and Blood is to be heard of among the Indians."

October 12. We hear from the upper Parts of the Country, that the heavy Rains which fell there about a Fortnight ago, have occasioned the greatest Freshes known for many Years, by which very considerable Damage has been done to the Land contiguous to the Rivers.——The Water rose in many Places, near Thirty Feet perpendicular, carrying away all the Bridges, and many Houses.——Several Gentlemen have suffer'd very considerably by the Loss of their Tobacco Houses, and other Damage to their Plantations.

NEW-YORK, October 9.

Extract of a Letter from Curacoa, dated September 9. 1752.

"This Island is so infested with Privateers, that there is scarce any Openings for Commerce. You will, no doubt, have heard of a Spanish Privateer's taking a Sloop as she lay at Anchor at Boneira, a few Weeks ago: I can also acquaint you, that three Days ago another Privateer appeared there, and took a Schooner belonging to this Place, and another Vessel: The Schooner was bound for the Margarettas, with a Cargo of the Value of 13,000 Pieces of Eight on board; she mounted 8 Carriage Guns, besides Swivels, and 45 Men; and yet never fired a Gun.——By this we seem to be much degenerated from our former Glory, in which we always esteem'd ourselves not to be equalled."

Capt. Bennett, who arrived here on Saturday Evening, in 20 Days from Jamaica, informs us, that on Sunday the first Instant, in Lat. 36, his Vessel broach'd to, in a very hard Gale at N. W. and by her Ballast shifting she immediately overset; but on their cutting away the main Shrowds, their Mast went overboard, and she righted a little; but 'twas near 48 Hours before they could get her upright. He lost his Foresail, Main-topsail, Trysail, and Sheet Anchor, but by good Providence none of his People received any Hurt. Capt. Bennett further informs us, that Commodore Coates is using all the Means in his Power to protect the Trade of that Island; and that two Brigs, with his Assistance, were well fitted and mann'd, with a Design to trade upon the Spanish Main.

October 2. By Capt. Emott, arrived last Week at Elizabeth-Town, in 14 Days from Barbadoes, we hear that Admiral Knowles, in the Wager Man of War, from England, in Company with another Man of War station'd at Barbadoes, arriv'd at that Island the 27th of August; and was to sail again in two or three Days for his Government of Jamaica.

On Thursday last a New Jersey Man, tall and pock-fretten, paid ten Pieces of Eight in a Shop in this City; and on Friday it was discovered that three of them were counterfeited: The Bulk, Impression, preſſion, and Letters, are ſo well imitated that one would ſcarcely ſuſpect them; they ring almoſt as other Pieces of Eight; the Colour nearly but not quite the ſame; but on cutting they are ſoft almoſt as Pewter, and on weighing they are 2s. lighter than Pieces of Eight; which are the only ſure means we know of diſcovering them.

Extract of a Letter from Charles Town, in South Carolina, dated Aug. 26.

"Capt. Carr, who arrived here laſt Tueſday Night from the Muſqueto Shore, informs us, that the Spaniards, by the Help of ſome of their Jeſuits, have been endeavouring to get the Indians to riſe in one Night, and cut the Throats of all the Engliſh Settlers there, and that their Plots were near ripe for Execution; but ſome Letters that were wrote to the Indian King being intercepted, the whole Scene of Villainy was diſcovered, and they immediately went in ſearch of the Jeſuits who were the Heads in this Spaniſh like Contrivance.
